WHITE SLAVE PROBE IS GETTING RESULTS

Arrest of "Marquis" Guglielmi Expected to Produce "Revelations"

New York, Sept. 6.—New York's white slave investigation with its stories of wrecks of young women held in virtual bondage, was pointing nearer today to probable entanglement of at least one police officer in alleged bribery and extortion through which the system has been kept alive, according to evidence in the hands of District Attorney Swann.

Spreading from the streets the white slave ring reached into the circles of "climbers" of near society folk, the latest revelations indicate. There, through blackmail, the plotters endeavored to collect tribute after women furnished by the ring, participated in orgies of the "new rich."

As District Attorney Swann pressed his investigation of revelations which are declared to have followed the arrest of Rodolfo Guglielmi, self styled "marquis", new developments that may lead to further arrests and possible charges against police were expected at the prosecutor's office.

Guglielmi was formerly the dancing partner of Joan Sawyer, a Broadway favorite. He was arrested in the apartment of Mrs. Georgia Thym.

Much valuable information is expected to come from the dancer and Mrs. Thym.

San Francisco Man Is Charged with Fraud By Oregon Farmers

Operating on a big scale before he was caught and securing deeds to a number of valuable farms in the upper Willamette valley by trading land in Texas which it is alleged he did not own, F. G. Mathison, of San Francisco, is now under arrest at Oakland, Cal., and will be brought to Eugene for trial. He was arrested Sunday.

A complaint against Mathison was sworn to by A. H. Bossen, who traded a good ranch of 297 acres on Camp creek in this county valued at $10,000 for a tract of land in Texas which Mathison claimed to own. Marvin Martin, of Brownsville, Lin county, is another victim. He traded 200 acres of land in Lin county, also valued at about $10,000, for a tract of the Texas land. From Bossen, Mathison secured $600 worth of personal property which he sold at once and he has already disposed of the Brownsville farm. Aside from obtaining Martin's farm he was given a note for $2,800 by Martin, that amount representing the alleged difference in the value of the two properties in the deal.

Bank Gives Tip

District Attorney J. M. Devers, who has been working on the case for a long time, said yesterday that Mathison was also about to close a deal with S. S. Johns, a capitalist of Myrtle Creek, Douglas county, for the transfer of land owned by Mr. Johns and valued at $14,000. Mr. Johns wired to a bank in Texas near where the land he was to trade for is located, asking as to its value, and the bank wired back that the land is all right but advised Mr. Johns to look out for the title. He began to investigate and discovered that he was about to be defrauded out of his land.

Church Has No Use for Former Pastor Aked

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Dr. Charles F. Aked is not wanted again as pastor of the First Congregational church, even at a reduced salary. This was a settled fact today following a meeting of the congregation, which ends a stormy session without choosing a pastor. Rev. H. S. Bradley, of Worcester, Mass., declined the call extended him, owing to the Aked trouble.

Those opposed to Dr. Aked declared that he is no pastor, that he gave too much attention to outside matters and was not effective in work within his congregation. They also alleged that the day after he received Henry Ford's invitation to help get "the boys out of the benches before Christmas" he left his pulpit, despite the objection of the trustees.

Senate Takes Up Owen Corrupt Practices Act

Washington, Sept. 6.—The senate today voted to take up the Owen Corrupt Practices Act. The vote was 32 to 14. The debate on the bill began immediately. Unless a filibuster develops, the measure, even in the opinion of those who voted against taking it up, was expected to pass within a few hours. Since republicans voted with 23 democrats to take up the bill, it is designed to prevent "the purchase of elective offices of the government."

A DOWS FLAT INCIDENT

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—An agreement to dig a well until water is struck does not make the owner of the property liable if, instead of striking water, the excavation encounters silver. This was settled today by the dismissal of a suit brought against Lily Langtry, actress, to collect money alleged due Nevada men who dug a well on property belonging to her. The discovery of the silver caused miners to file claims on all the land, and the actress said she agreed to pay only if water was struck, as for a time, she considered cultivating the tract involved in the suit.

or, while Robbie's charges and the Giants are doing the same stunt in New York. One of those clubs is bound to stick right on Robinson's trail and then Robinson must go to Boston for the issue.

Should Detroit win from St. Louis and Philadelphia take another victory from Boston today, the standing would be:

Boston won 74; lost 26; percentage .569.
Detroit won 75; lost 27; percentage .568.

If the Braves succeed in downing the Phillies in both games today while the Giants and Dodgers break even, they will lead the National league race by half a game.

Welsh-White Farce Killed Boxing Game

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 6.—Gloom and pessimism have replaced the air of enthusiasm over boxing that this city has seen the last boxing match for some years. The collapse of a section of the arena and the injury of scores of spectators, combined with the demonstration of dissatisfied fight fans has turned the residents against the fight game.

The total receipts to the club from the Welsh-White bout were $30,718. Of this sum Welsh received $15,309. His guarantee was $12,500 and $1,000 expenses. The remainder he received was his 50 per cent split in receipts of $27,000. White received $4,000.

NO MORE OLD WALTZES

New York, Sept. 6.—The old fashioned waltz again? Pooh, pooh, it will never again come into favor, this dreamy old cadence of romantic feet, say members of the American Society of Professors of Dancing, in convention here today.

Out of the bloody trenches of Europe has come the military influence. Military steps and Hawaiian wiggles will be predominating influences in this winter's dances, the conventioners agree.

Aviator Fatally Hurt by 300 Foot Fall

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6.—Major W. K. Campbell, British arm instructor at the Curtiss aviation school here, was fatally injured and Theodore De Kruijss, a Harvard university student of Freeport, N. Y., was hurt when their biplane fell 300 feet today.

Campbell suffered a fractured skull, a broken right leg and broken ankle. De Kruijss' escape from serious injury is considered miraculous.
